New Shooting Breaks Calm In Cleveland

2 White Youths Are Blamed for Wounding Negro

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A shot fired from a moving car wounded a Negro motorist critically early today in guerrilla rioting that has wracked Cleveland's East Side Negro area for five nights.

Until the shooting about 3 a.m., police and National Guardsmen had kept relative calm in areas hit by fire bombing, shooting and vandalism since Monday night.

Shots were fired from the passenger-side window of a car carrying two white youths, police said. Six white youths were rounded up in pairs, within minutes, but police clamped a tight lid on information.

The man shot was identified as Benoris Toney, 29, a father of five. His wife said he was on the way to pick up a friend at work on the West Side.

He was the 10th victim of gunfire wounds in rioting that has taken three lives and caused heavy damage from fires and looting.

Toney was shot in a parking lot of a lumber company two miles outside the Hough (pronounced 'huff') area where most of the rioting has occurred and which police and 1,750 National Guardsmen have sealed off.

The victim's car was still moving after the shots were fired. Police hunting a sniper in the area were in the parking lot when Toney was shot and took off quickly after the gunman's car.

The shooting heightened fears that riot-weary Cleveland is headed into a bad weekend. The violence Friday night moved nearer to white ethnic pockets in predominantly Negro neighborhoods where racial fighting occurred in 1964.

Police said Toney was struck in the face by a shotgun blast and part of his face had been blown away.

The fifth night of disorder saw police and National Guardsmen covering wider areas and being tougher about it.

More persons were searched. A 9 p.m. curfew was rigidly enforced against youngsters under 6. Small groups of three or four men were dispersed. Suspicious persons were photographed by police on the spot.

Mayor Ralph S. Locher received requests from two Negro councilmen for martial law, a curfew and an increase in the National Guard forces augmenting the city's 2,000 policemen.

The mayor said he expected increased lawlessness over the weekend, but had decided against martial law and a curfew, or a call for more guard.

U.S. Weather Grows Pleasant

Showers diminished in scattered sections and more pleasant weather prevailed in most of the nation today.

Temperatures during the early morning ranged in the 60s and 70s in most parts of the country. Heavy rain fell Friday and during the night in parts of the South, the Midwest and the Rockies.

A severe wind, rain and hail storm swept the area of Gillette in northeastern Wyoming. Several persons were injured and buildings and crops were damaged. The storm caused a gas line to rupture in the eastern part of the town of 4,500 and broke power lines throughout the area. Homes were evacuated for fear of a gas explosion.

Senate Probe To Spotlight Soaring U.S. Drug Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell B. Long said today he is planning a public inquiry into drug prices and federal health programs.

When it comes, the Louisiana Democrat said, "people are going to be finding out that they're paying 400 times too much for some of their drugs."

Long's forum will be the Senate Finance Committee; his topic, prescription practices under medicare and federally aided health programs.

Long, assistant Democratic leader, has introduced a bill that would require the prescribing and dispensing of medicare drugs under their chemical, generic names, not under private brand names.

Long said that would reduce sharply the cost of medicine prescribed under the new program of medical care for the aged.

While the hearings will deal with federal health programs, Long said in an interview, they also will focus a public spotlight on the whole field of drug prices.

Long said he has not set a timetable for the inquiry, and it may not be completed before the Senate adjourns this year. The Finance Committee now is working on unemployment compensation legislation, and the senator said other bills must be handled before hearings can be held on his drug proposal.

Long said without his proposed legislation, drug prices could send the cost of medicare soaring.

"Prescribing by brand name is the formula for monopoly," he told the Senate. Long said the government already buys drugs for its hospitals by chemical name, not brand name.

But he said 44 states have laws barring sale of drugs by generic name if the doctor has prescribed medicine by brand name.

Long published in the Congressional Record a list he said showed the price of often-prescribed drugs, in lots of 1,000 by brand name and by generic name.

Among his samples:
— Rauwolfia serpentina, a drug Long said costs $1.10 by that name, sells for $30.78 as Raudixin.

— Reserpine, 69 cents, compared with $39.50 for Serpasil.

— Pentaerythritol tetranitrate 98 cents; Paritrate $20.

Negro Boy Plans March To Capitol

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A 17-year-old Negro high school pupil, Willie Hunter said he will begin a lone march to Washington Sunday to show his support for U.S. involvement in Viet Nam.

Hunter said he will carry an American flag on his long walk, which he plans to begin on Interstate 85 at the Georgia-South Carolina border.

The lanky youth said he hoped to reach Washington in about seven days. This would mean a killing marching pace of about 75 miles a day. It is about 550 miles from the state line to Washington.

Hunter says he is "tired of hearing" some civil right groups issue protests of the fighting in Viet Nam and that he will consider it an honor to serve in the military when he is older.

Hunter said he has a written invitation from President Johnson to visit the White House. He plans to lead a youth rally in support of the Viet Nam fighting at the Lincoln Memorial Aug. 4.

Division of Parks had temporarily tabled all projects at the lake until a comprehensive study to develop a camp site is completed.

However, Walter Richards, responsible for initiating the club's action, said the letter will still be sent to Fred Mohr, director of the Department of Natural Resources.

In referring to the $110,000 the legislature earmarked for capital improvements at A. W. Marion State Park, Richards today said "It looks like we're not going to get any of it now."

IF THE funds are not spent before the 1968 fiscal year begins (July 1, 1967), money for any planned improvement must be reappropriated.

Marvin Rebholz, chief of the Division of Parks, has indicated he will approach the next legislature requesting funds to construct the camp sites.

Marines Press Action Against North Viet Force

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Helicopter-borne U.S. infantrymen pounded an entrenched Viet Cong force only 25 miles from Saigon today and overran the enemy bunkers in what a spokesman called "fast and furious action."

To the north, U.S. Marines fighting in mountain jungles just south of the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam reported killing 55 more North Vietnamese regulars to raise the number of enemy dead to 576 in eight days of hard fighting.

Over North Viet Nam, U.S. Air Force Thunderchiefs tangled with Communist MIG-17s in a fruitless one-minute exchange of fire during renewed raids on oil depots, railroads, barges and bridges.

The U.S. command announced that Australian troops had kicked off on a new clearing operation 38 miles southeast of Saigon and that the first small contingent of Thailand servicemen has arrived in the country.

The U.S. command also reported that a Navy A4 Skyhawk fighter-bomber from the carrier Oriskany was shot down over North Viet Nam today, the 306th plane lost in the air war over the north. The pilot bailed out at sea and was rescued about 35 miles north of Vinh.

U.S. spokesmen disclosed the loss in South Viet Nam of an L19 light observation plane about 100 miles southwest of Saigon and said both members of the two-man crew were killed.

Another light observation plane and a U.S. Army helicopter collided during Operation Hastings near the demilitarized zone. Three crew members of the helicopters were injured. The fate of the two fliers in the observation plane was not known.

In the fighting 75 miles north of Saigon, several battalions of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division struck this afternoon against a dug-in Viet Cong force in the Ong Dong jungles.

The infantrymen, lifted into the area by helicopters, overran enemy bunkers almost at once. A spokesman said American casualties in the initial stages were light. He said the Communist losses were not yet reported but the infantrymen captured quantities of machine guns and ammunition.

At last report toward dark, the GIs were still in contact with the Viet Cong.

White House Refutes Latest Fulbright Rap

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J.W. Fulbright has launched a new attack on the administration's Asian policy—and received a tart reply from the White House which reported President Johnson was "disappointed" in the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Inconsistent, disappointing and difficult to follow was the way White House press secretary Bill Moyers described Fulbright's argument in a renewal of the Fulbright-Johnson dispute over American commitments to Asia.

The latest exchange was triggered when Fulbright told the Senate Friday that statements by Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey revealed an "emerging 'Asian Doctrine'" under which "the United States is taking on the role of policeman and provider for all of non-Communist Asia."

In a remark that obviously rankled the White House, the Arkansas Democrat declared:

"I think it extremely important that the Senate, which used to be asked for its advice and consent on major foreign commitments, consider some of the sweeping implications of the 'Asian Doctrine' before it becomes an irrevocable national commitment undertaken without the consent or even the knowledge of the Senate."

As a possible measure of Johnson's irritation, the White House response to Fulbright was the one of longest and strongest yet made to a member of Congress.

The President, said Moyers, "is disappointed that Sen. Fulbright's speech made allegations about irrevocable national commitments the speech does not contain."

The speech in question was one Johnson delivered by telephone to the American Alumni Council at White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., July 12.

Fulbright quoted Johnson as declaring in the speech "the determination of the United States to meet our obligation in Asia as a Pacific power." Further, Fulbright singled out a television interview last April 19 in which he said Humphrey defined the Honolulu declaration resulting from Johnson's meeting with South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky as a "Johnson Doctrine" for Asia, with "great commitments."

Fulbright said the vice president went on to say, "I think there is a tremendous new opening here for realizing the dream of the Great Society in the great area of Asia, not just here at home."

All this, said Fulbright, "must come as a big surprise to senators who have not even been informed of these sweeping commitments, much less asked for their advice and consent."

"One wonders," added Fulbright, "whether anyone ever thought of asking the Asians if they really want to join the Great Society."

At the White House, Moyers said Fulbright "made several assumptions about the President's speech and the President's policies which are not justified in fact."

LBJ Says Red Viet Win To Bring New Aggression

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—President Johnson said today a Communist victory in Viet Nam "would inspire new aggression in the rest of the world" while an American success might put an end to wars forever.

In a speech prepared for delivery at Monument Circle in the heart of downtown Indianapolis, Johnson pictured the fighting in Southeast Asia as a test which will determine whether aggression and guerilla warfare will engulf Africa and Latin America as well as that part of the world.

"We are not going to run out on South Viet Nam," he said. "We are not going to break America's word. However long it takes, we will persist until the Communists end the fighting or negotiate an honorable peace."

The chief executive said a Communist victory in South Viet Nam "would be followed by new ambitions in Asia and would inspire new aggression in the rest of the world."

Before leaving Washington, Johnson held out hope that an American success in Viet Nam, by contrast, might put an end to wars.

Speaking at the dedication of a national headquarters building for Amvets, a veterans' organization, he said:

"If we succeed in meeting this latest challenge of force, it may be that the veterans of Viet Nam will be the last veterans to use this building."

In Indianapolis, Johnson said the Communists would have seized South Viet Nam already had the United States not stepped in with both feet last year.

"So far their adventures in aggression have not worked," he said.

Johnson described Communist Cuba as "on a downhill slide" and said the peoples of Africa and Indonesia have rejected the threat of Communist domination.

"Inside Communist China," he went on, "there is a struggle for power and a great debate on the future of policy. It is obvious that their past policies have failed. In time we hope and believe the mainland Chinese will come to terms with their neighbors and the world."

But he said, "Nothing would bring new heart to their cause quicker than a Communist success in South Viet Nam." He said this must not happen and will not happen.

Intervention Hinted Possible

New Geneva Talks Are Brushed Aside

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's leaders spelled out in harsh words at a mammoth Peking rally Friday the only end they see to the war in Viet Nam — total Communist victory, possibly with Chinese intervention.

Speaking to a throng estimated by Japanese correspondents on the scene at nearly one million, President Liu Shao-chi declared:

"To fight on, to fight through to the end, to fight until the U.S. aggressors are totally and completely driven out of Viet Nam and final victory is won — this is the powerful answer of the Vietnamese people to the U.S. imperialist act of escalating its war of aggression to a new and still graver stage."

Asserting that "aggression against Viet Nam is aggression against China," Liu said "the Chinese people have made up their minds and have made every preparation to take such actions at any time and in any place as the Chinese and Vietnamese people deem necessary for dealing joint blows at the U.S. aggressors."

Some observers said the statement appeared to go a step further than previous declarations of support by China. In the past, it had been stressed that China would act if asked to do so by Hanoi.

Liu and the other speakers, according to Radio Peking broadcasts heard here, made clear that even a halt in U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam would not draw the Communists to the conference table — as far as Peking is concerned.

Reconvening of the Geneva conference was completely ruled out as an "out-and-out criminal action."

Peace efforts by British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi in recent trips to Moscow were denounced — as well as the Soviet leaders.

Peking also declared itself completely freed of all restrictions and limitations imposed by the 1954 Geneva conference on Indochina, and said the agreements "are already nonexistent."

Liu said, "We must warn the U.S. aggressors in all seriousness: do not miscalculate and do not misjudge your opponents."

He said China was "ready to undertake the greatest national sacrifices" and no longer was restricted by the demarcation line between North and South Viet Nam in giving aid to the Vietnamese people.

"The 700 million Chinese people provide a powerful backing for the Vietnamese people," he declared. "The vast expanse of China's territory is the reliable rear area of the Vietnamese people."

Hemingway Book Claims Denied

NEW YORK (AP) — A judge has turned down the claim of Mary Hemingway, widow of Ernest Hemingway, that A. E. Hotchner's book "Papa Hemingway" violated the Hemingway estate's literary rights.

In ruling Friday against Mrs. Hemingway, State Supreme Court Justice Francis P. Murphy Jr. said Hotchner had not violated a "confidential relationship" as asserted in the suit against Hotchner and Random House, Inc.

Judge Murphy said "a mutual interest does not create mutual property or joint venture. There is not a scintilla of proof of confidential relationship or joint venture."

Johnson described Communist Cuba as "on a downhill slide" and said the peoples of Africa and Indonesia have rejected the threat of Communist domination.

"Inside Communist China," he went on, "there is a struggle for power and a great debate on the future of policy. It is obvious that their past policies have failed. In time we hope and believe the mainland Chinese will come to terms with their neighbors and the world."

But he said, "Nothing would bring new heart to their cause quicker than a Communist success in South Viet Nam." He said this must not happen and will not happen.

'Second Street' Found To Be Most Popular

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Second Street is the No. 1 street in America, says R. L. Polk Co. Polk, publisher of directories for 6,500 cities in the United States, made computer tabulations showing Second is the most common street name.

And, if it isn't confusing enough that Seconds ranks first, Polk says Park is second.

Third is third. Fourth is fourth among most common names. Fifth is fifth.

But Main is sixth and First is seventh.

Intervention Hinted Possible

New Geneva Talks Are Brushed Aside

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's leaders spelled out in harsh words at a mammoth Peking rally Friday the only end they see to the war in Viet Nam — total Communist victory, possibly with Chinese intervention.

Speaking to a throng estimated by Japanese correspondents on the scene at nearly one million, President Liu Shao-chi declared:

"To fight on, to fight through to the end, to fight until the U.S. aggressors are totally and completely driven out of Viet Nam and final victory is won — this is the powerful answer of the Vietnamese people to the U.S. imperialist act of escalating its war of aggression to a new and still graver stage."

Asserting that "aggression against Viet Nam is aggression against China," Liu said "the Chinese people have made every preparation to take such actions at any time and in any place as the Chinese and Vietnamese people deem necessary for dealing joint blows at the U.S. aggressors."

Some observers said the statement appeared to go a step further than previous declarations of support by China. In the past, it had been stressed that China would act if asked to do so by Hanoi.

Liu and the other speakers, according to Radio Peking broadcasts heard here, made clear that even a halt in U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam would not draw the Communists to the conference table — as far as Peking is concerned.

Reconvening of the Geneva conference was completely ruled out as an "out-and-out criminal action."

Peace efforts by British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi in recent trips to Moscow were denounced — as well as the Soviet leaders.

Peking also declared itself completely freed of all restrictions and limitations imposed by the 1954 Geneva conference on Indochina, and said the agreements "are already nonexistent."

Liu said, "We must warn the U.S. aggressors in all seriousness: do not miscalculate and do not misjudge your opponents."

He said China was "ready to undertake the greatest national sacrifices" and no longer was restricted by the demarcation line between North and South Viet Nam in giving aid to the Vietnamese people.

"The 700 million Chinese people provide a powerful backing for the Vietnamese people," he declared. "The vast expanse of China's territory is the reliable rear area of the Vietnamese people."

Hemingway Book Claims Denied

NEW YORK (AP) — A judge has turned down the claim of Mary Hemingway, widow of Ernest Hemingway, that A. E. Hotchner's book "Papa Hemingway" violated the Hemingway estate's literary rights.

In ruling Friday against Mrs. Hemingway, State Supreme Court Justice Francis P. Murphy Jr. said Hotchner had not violated a "confidential relationship" as asserted in the suit against Hotchner and Random House, Inc.

Judge Murphy said "a mutual interest does not create mutual property or joint venture. There is not a scintilla of proof of confidential relationship or joint venture."

2 U.S. Judges Are OK'd

Farm Science Review Crops Thriving on Added Moisture

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Recent rains have been a boon to crops at the Ohio State Farm Science Review.

"We're in good shape now," says Dale Friday, Review manager. "If the dry, hot spell of June and early July had continued, our crops probably would have suffered some permanent damage."

Much of the corn on the Review grounds is in tassel and soybeans in some of the plots are nearly waist high. The added moisture, plus normal weather from now on, should put crops in excellent condition by Review time, September 21-23, according to Friday.

The rains also have eased the strain on irrigation equipment. Before the rains, Review workers were moving irrigation pipe from plot to plot in an effort to quench thirsty crops.

Homes Can Be Made Cooler Without Air Conditioning

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Even without air-conditioning you can make your house cooler, according to Donald L. Pfost, Ohio State University Extension agricultural engineer.

He suggests several ways to keep cool during the hot summer months.

metal or canvas, light-colored and open-sided. Pfost says. If they are wider than the window, they will screen out the sun longer.

LOUVERED - TYPE insect screens can keep as much as 80 per cent of the sun's rays from entering through southern windows. On east and west windows they reduce solar heat by 25 to 50 per cent.

Attic fans can be helpful if used properly, Pfost says. A fan for an average size house should be 36 to 42 inches wide with a one quarter to one third horsepower motor. Such a fan can change the air in the house about 30 times an hour.

Pfost recommends that the fan be used only to pull in cooler outside air. For example, at night when the outside temperature drops open bedroom windows and bring the air in through the bedrooms. Then in the morning close the house until it's hotter inside than outside.

Long overhangs or awnings reduce solar heat by 65 to 75 per cent. Awnings should be Venetian blinds on south windows reduce heat 25 to 50 per cent. Light-colored blinds and drapes will reflect heat. Keeping them closed during the day will also make the house cooler, Pfost says. And if you don't need to open a window for ventilation, leave the storm window on to reduce the heat conducted through the glass.

If you're doing any repairs or building, here are some things to consider. Light-colored composition shingles absorb only half as much direct solar heat as black or dark shingles. A house with a high-pitched roof is cooler than one with a low-pitched or flat roof.

Mosquitoes Are Difficult To Control

Even with the hundreds of candles, bug bombs, gadgets and pesticides manufactured today — there's no sure-fire way to keep those uninvited mosquitoes away from your picnic potato salad and backyard badminton games.

But William Delaplane, Extension entomologist at Ohio State University, has some suggestions which may help to keep mosquito populations down around your lawn and patio areas.

Long overhangs or awnings reduce solar heat by 65 to 75 per cent. Awnings should be Venetian blinds on south windows reduce heat 25 to 50 per cent. Light-colored blinds and drapes will reflect heat. Keeping them closed during the day will also make the house cooler, Pfost says. If you're doing any repairs or building, here are some things to consider. Light-colored composition shingles absorb only half as much direct solar heat as black or dark shingles. A house with a high-pitched roof is cooler than one with a low-pitched or flat roof.

He says no mosquito control is permanent, but one that lasts fairly long is a spray of one per cent solution of Diazinon emulsion or a two per cent Chlordane emulsion. Use either according to manufacturers' directions.

Where should you spray? Don't forget gutters and eaves spouts or any other places where water might be standing, since mosquitoes need water to breed. Also spray shrubs and hedges, because mosquitoes stay on the under sides of leaves in the daytime.

KEEP swimmers and boaters out of the farm pond just prior to and during storms, advise Ohio State University Extension Safety Specialists.

NATIONAL Farm Safety Week is July 24-30.

LARGEST private support of 4-H award programs comes from business and industry through the National 4-H Service Committee.

GET RID of piles of organic materials, such as grass clippings, and never pile compost materials close to where you don't want mosquitoes. These materials attract not only mosquitoes but also other pesky insects such as fungus gnats, ants, and picnic or sap beetles.

For an even more temporary control of mosquitoes, use a pyrethrin knock-down spray bomb immediately before you want to use the area. If the wind is blowing, this spray will be useless, the specialist says. Never spray close to food.

New Surplus in Food Is Seen as Possibility

By OVID MARTIN
AP Farm Editor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Man-made food shortages or a return of farm surpluses are contrasting risks faced by Johnson administration farm officials in making agricultural decisions.

Food surpluses are gone but these officials are concerned lest the rising world food demands influence them to make production decisions that could lead to new surpluses.

This dilemma confronts Secretary of agriculture Orville L. Freeman in regard to a decision he must make within a week or so on whether to order a further increase in planting allotments for the 1967 wheat crop.

The same type of decision will come before Freeman within a few months on a feed-grain program for next year. Furthermore, the secretary is right up against a dairy production problem that is causing concern not because of possible new surpluses of dairy products, but because of possible tight supplies.

All around the world there is discussion of food problem. Many political as well as social and economic leaders believe there is grave doubt that the world will be able to feed a population that is increasing much more rapidly than the global ability to produce food. Recently an advisory commission of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization warned, "The world is on the threshold of the worst famine in its history."

This being the outlook, it is easy to say that the United States should abandon all farm controls—or at least greatly ease them—to produce food to block this potential starvation.

But for officials who must take the responsibility for farm production, it is not that easy. Having spent much time and work to get rid of surpluses that had drawn much public criticism, these officials quite naturally do not want to do anything that might create new surplus problems.

Yet, on the other hand, they are wary of decisions that might

Farm Science Review Crops Thriving on Added Moisture

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Recent rains have been a boon to crops at the Ohio State Farm Science Review. "We're in good shape now," says Dale Friday, Review manager. "If the dry, hot spell of June and early July had continued, our crops probably would have suffered some permanent damage."

Much of the corn on the Review grounds is in tassel and soybeans in some of the plots are nearly waist high. The added moisture, plus normal weather from now on, should put crops in excellent condition by Review time, September 21-23, according to Friday.

The rains also have eased the strain on irrigation equipment. Before the rains, Review workers were moving irrigation pipe from plot to plot in an effort to quench thirsty crops.

Tillage and water management are among the demonstrations to be stressed at this year's Review. Visitors will be able to compare irrigated corn plots with those which were not irrigated, in both 20 and 40-inch rows.

Demonstrations will compare various tillage practices with no tillage. Visitors will see corn planted in seedbeds which have been plowed only, plowed and disked, plowed and strip processed, rototilled, and vibratilled.

Still other corn demonstrations will show various rates of fertilizer application, plant populations and row spacings. Some plots have received 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre, some 120 pounds and some 180 pounds.

Starter fertilizer has been used on some plots, no starter fertilizer on others. Commercial corn hybrids on display will number 288, nearly 50 more than last year.

Soybean demonstrations will compare varieties, dates of planting, fertilizer rates and placement, plant population and row spacing. Some soybean plots have been irrigated.

Forage crops at the Review include 10 new alfalfa varieties, 25 sudan grasses, 14 grain sorghums and eight forage sorghums. Demonstration plots will show differences in seeding dates of sudan grasses and sudan - sorghum crosses and of forage sorghums. Such less-common forage crops as crown vetch and birdsfoot trefoil will also be on display.

More than 500 ornamentals are included in the horticulture and forestry display. A plantation of dawn redwood and bald cypress has replaced the Christmas tree planting on the south side of the Review grounds near the entrance to the Ohio State University airport. Also in the area are the herb garden, giant flower beds of petunias and geraniums and grape and dwarf apple tree plantings.

Back again this year is the unusual crops display with examples of underground, birdseed, oil, fiber and cereal crops and the world collection of corn varieties.

The Review, now in its fourth year, is designed to show Ohioans the latest in agricultural science and technology. Held each fall on Ohio State University farmland in Northwest Franklin County, the event features a colorful display of new farm equipment and supplies, field demonstrations of farm machinery in operation, educational exhibits, and new crops and cropping practices.

Sponsors are Ohio State University, the Ohio Cooperative Extension Service, the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center and the Ohio Expositions Commission.

Clothier's Record Still Unblemished

ROBINSON, Ill. (AP) — Clothier J. Clyde Kimmell, who says that in 29 years he has never failed to deliver rental clothes as promised, has been hard pressed on two occasions recently to keep that record intact.

He found it necessary to drive to Mattoon a few weeks ago to retrieve two dinner jackets that were about to miss the wedding they had been ordered for.

And since then, after spending $30 on long-distance calls, Kimmell discovered that 16 of the men's jackets ordered for prom night had been mislabeled to Elwood, Ind.

Leaving Robinson as soon as he finished telephoning on Thursday — at 5:45 p. m., Kimmell and his wife drove the 160 miles to Elwood, got the rentals and were back home by 2 a. m. Friday. He saved his record — and saved the day for 16 young men with dates for the prom.

If you're doing any repairs or building, here are some things to consider. Light-colored composition shingles absorb only half as much direct solar heat as black or dark shingles. A house with a high-pitched roof is cooler than one with a low-pitched or flat roof.

Sen. Dodd Paid Twice For Journey

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate records show that Sen. Thomas J. Dodd was reimbursed from an airplane trip to Los Angeles in 1964, and the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce also reports it paid his fare.

The Connecticut Democrat, under investigation by the Senate ethics committee on misconduct charges, could not be reached for comment on the double payment.

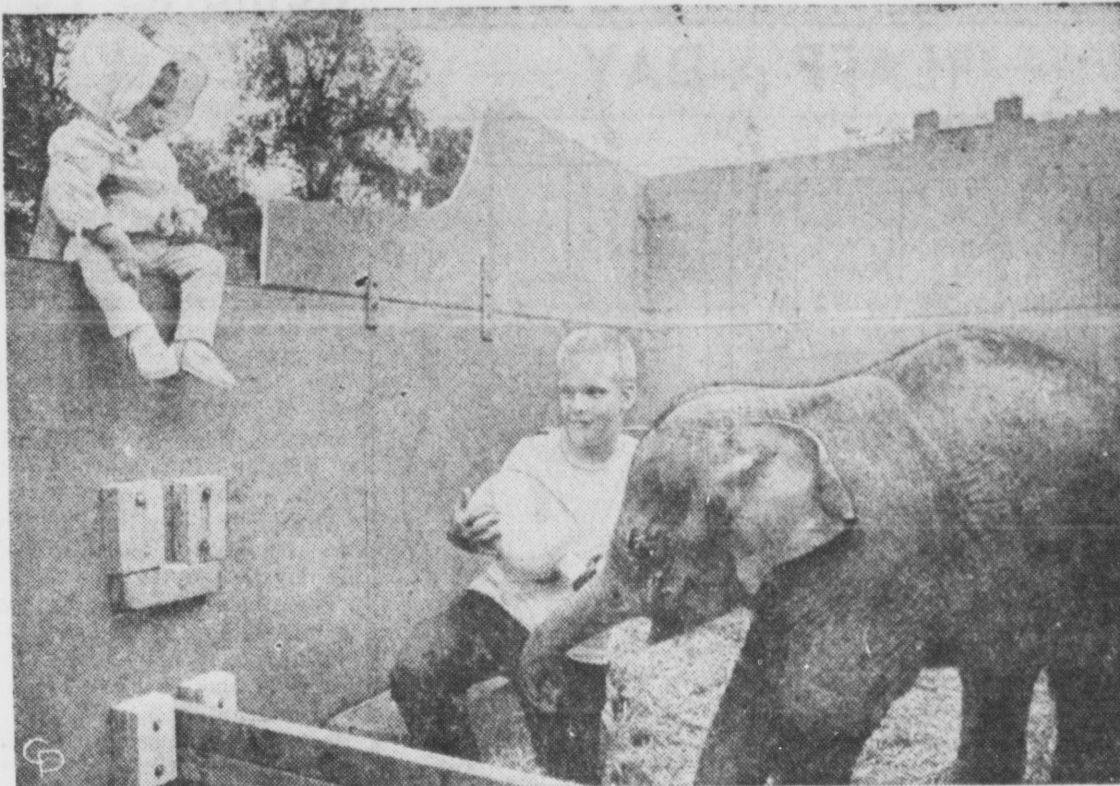

On file in the Senate secretary's office is a report listing payment of $320.78 to Dodd as chairman of a Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee for a flight to Los Angeles on Feb. 27, 1964, from Baltimore's Friendship Airport and his return here on March 4.

In Los Angeles, Victor Stark, executive secretary of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce said it also had sent Dodd a check for $320.78 for his fare after he addressed the Jaycees there on Feb. 27, 1964.

Stark said that a check was sent to Dodd after he received a letter from Michael O'Hare, Dodd's former office manager, requesting payment.

Sources have reported that the ethics committee has subpoenaed bank and other financial records in its investigation of Dodd.

Loan Maturity Date Near For Corn, Soybean Crops

Farmers were reminded today of the upcoming maturity date for price-support loans on 1965 crops of corn and soybeans.

Galen D. Mowery, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, points out that growers who have corn and soybeans under loan may redeem their crops at any time through Aug. 1 by paying off the loan plus interest. Since the program cutoff date of July 31 occurs on Sunday this year, the date of maturity is automatically extended to the next day.

Substantial quantities of 1965 crop corn and soybeans have been put under price-support loans this year. But many loans have already been repaid so that amounts remaining under loan are moderate, the chairman explained.

"Producers are encouraged to redeem their crops and sell them when prices are most favorable and above the support price," Mowery said. "This is an overriding purpose of the price-support program. Price supports were devised to protect the farmer's price and to promote orderly marketing."

"By making it possible for farmers to store their crops for a while and not have to rush them to market at sacrifice harvest time prices, both market supplies and prices are stabilized, with benefit to both farmers and other consumers. And the larger the redemptions of loans, the lower the acquisition and other price-support program costs of the government."

'Illegal' Jail Suit Brings Stint in Court

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A Dayton man has filed suit against two county officials seeking a total of $46,000 for alleged illegal confinement in the Clark County Jail.

Robert E. Dunlavy said a court error caused his $35 fine last September to be recorded as a $100 fine. He said he was jailed to serve out the fine, and was confined for 35 days when 14 days would have been sufficient.

Dunlavy said he was confined in a "vile and loathsome cell with drunken, diseased and unclean people" and caught a skin disease after being bitten by lice, bed bugs and fleas.

He filed a $21,000 cause of action against Sheriff Jack W. Hamilton and Jack Hosterman, court clerk. He sought an additional $25,000 in punitive damages from Hamilton for failing to release him from jail.

Sectarian Hospital Bond Issue Is OK'd

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Issuance of voter-approved county hospital bonds to finance construction of both sectarian and non-sectarian hospitals isn't unconstitutional, the 10th District Court of Appeals in Franklin County has ruled.

The decision clears the way for the sale of $7.8 million worth of bonds approved by county voters in 1964. An additional $7.2 million worth were sold last year.

The sale of the rest of the bonds had been postponed in March after a suit filed in Hamilton County challenged constitutionality of public bond support of hospitals operated by religious orders there.

Rather than await an outcome in the Cincinnati suit, local county officials sought a ruling from the appeals court here.

In April, Common Pleas Judge Henry Holden ruled the sale was not illegal under the Ohio Constitution and it was this decision the appeals court upheld today.

The appeals court decision was delivered by Appeals Court Judge John C. Duffy and Judge William C. Bryant and John J. Duffy concurring. In his concurring opinion, presiding Judge Bryant said:

"Ohio has long since recognized hospitals and the treatment and care of those who are ill as vitally intertwined with public interest. That interest, in our opinion, transcends the interrelated question of who operates the participating institution."

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — The fishing boat Alaford recently netted two Civil War cannon balls dated 1862 in the Cape Fear River. A Navy demolition team will take charge of the cannon balls, which the Coast Guard says are probably filled with black powder and iron shot.

Noting that the cannon balls had not exploded, a Coast Guardsman with a decided Southern drawl, said "Maybe that's why we lost the Civil War."

Cost of Living Climbing Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose three-tenths of one per cent last month, rounding out the biggest six months of rising prices in eight years, the Labor Department reports.

Substantial price hikes for food, medical care and mortgage interest rates were the biggest factors in the June increase that brought living costs up a total of 1.7 per cent the first half of 1966.

The rise lifted the government's consumer price index to 112.9, meaning it took $11.29 in June to purchase typical consumer items costing $10 in the 1957-59 base period.

The index was 2.5 per cent higher than a year ago and up 4 per cent in the past two years, said Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

He said this compared favorably with other nations which had experienced price hikes between 6 and 14 per cent in the past two years.

"I'm not suggesting this is a silver lining," Ross added.

Food prices went up four-tenths of one per cent in June because of bad weather and strong demand affecting fresh fruits. Medical costs climbed seven-tenths and mortgage interest rates rose 2.1 per cent, the bureau said.

In other major price categories measured by the government, housing costs rose four-tenths of one per cent, clothing one-tenth and transportation two-tenths.

Although over-all food costs were up, meat prices generally leveled off after many months of sharp increases. Egg prices dropped nearly 10 per cent.

Average after tax wages of some 17 million factory workers remained at $99.22 for those with three dependents and $91.35 for single workers but higher prices cut their purchasing power by about 25 cents a week.

The June price increase brought the value of a 1957-59 dollar down to 88.6 cents from 88.8 cents in May.

The dollar, in terms of 1947-59 value, dropped to 72.2 cents and the 1939 dollar to 42.9 cents.

Some 84,000 workers with cost of living escalator clauses in their labor contracts will get wage increases ranging from one to three cents an hour.

This includes nearly 50,000 aircraft workers and some 20,000 interstate bus employees.

Make Check For Damage By Bagworms

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent, Agriculture

If you've noticed leaves disappearing on evergreens or deciduous trees or shrubs, check a little closer for bagworms. Damage from these worms is showing up now.

The worms are larvae of a moth that eat needles and leaves of nearly any kind of tree or shrub. At the present stage, they're building bags and will soon be attaching them to twigs. The bags, where the females stay, will be completed next month.

In the meantime, they are crawling about the trees and feeding on the needles and leaves, sometimes completely stripping a tree or shrub. A tree can usually survive after being completely defoliated once.

If bagworms aren't thick, the best control is to pick the bags off the twigs and burn them. Be sure to burn them though, and not simply put them in the garbage can. If one is dropped out of the can, this control isn't effective.

When the number of bagworms is extensive, control them with lead arsenate, following recommendations on the label. While you'll get some control by spraying now, the ideal time to spray is around the first of June when the larvae first hatch.

Always keep your trees and shrubs watered and fertilized. Healthy trees have better chances of surviving such attacks.

A New Indonesia

Sukarnoism is just about dead. Indonesia's Congress, which endowed Sukarno with the title of president for life, unceremoniously has removed it. His powers have been passed to others. Few would have dared prophesy the changes that have taken place in Indonesia since last October. In swift strokes, the strength of the largest communist party in Asia outside Red China has been broken. The aura of omnipotence surrounding Sukarno has been demolished. The policies guiding Indonesia have been re-directed toward association with free nations.

Female Superiority

It didn't really take a lot of nerve for Johannesburg anthropologist Dr. Marvyn Jeffreys to tell an all-female audience that men should retire at 60, while women should continue working until 70. He had just finished telling his appreciative audience that men were the inferior creatures, that they are nothing more than incomplete "crippled females."

Dr. Jeffreys also noted that in the past women have managed to survive in hostile environments where men did not.

Among the scientist's other observations:

The suicide rate among men is higher; women are built for lifting and carrying—men are not; there are more psychological disturbances among men than women, and more men in mental institutions.

To top it off, Dr. Jeffreys completely sawed off the limb behind him by revealing that surveys show women drivers to be 13 times safer than men. Life just bears down more heavily on men, he said.

Confidence in the future of the motion picture industry is apparent in the number of new theaters springing up across the country. Trade sources estimate that nearly 15,000 movie houses are in operation in the nation, or about 1,200 more than at the beginning of last year and 2,400 more than three years ago.

Attendance has been picking up, too, with 47 million persons going to the movies every week last year, or nearly eight million more than in 1958, the low point of the television era. While attendance is still far below the 90 million a week of the peak 1946-48 period, moviegoers are paying higher prices than ever. Gross receipts reached a record $1.8 billion last year, or about $500 million more than the average for 1946-48.

Hollywood has thus found a sizeable, and growing, audience is deserting the free fare at home for entertainment that can be enjoyed without three back-to-back commercials at every climactic moment.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...
By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

The word dialysis connotes a modern day miracle to many whose lives depend on this great scientific advance.

Patients afflicted with chronic kidney conditions in which their kidneys are unable to remove the harmful waste products in the blood are now relieved of the threat to their lives.

An artificial kidney can now supply this function of cleansing the blood of accumulated dangerous chemicals. The process is called dialysis.

The artificial kidney machines are available all over the United States, and, hopefully, in other countries as well.

For example, at the Downstate Medical Center in Brooklyn, N. Y., it is reported that 17 patients are being kept alive with this dramatic, life-saving technique.

Not only are they being kept well, but many of these patients are able to lead active, serviceable lives.

Under the supervision of Dr. Eli Friedman and Dr. Keith Waterhouse, patients periodically come to the hospital to be cleansed of the toxic accumulation in their blood.

They enter the hospital in the early evening and spend the next 12 hours under treatment. In the process of dialysis, the artificial kidney helps to re-establish the chemical balance of the body.

Can the body continue to function well when one kidney is removed by surgery?

If the remaining kidney is perfectly normal, it can take over the function of the removed kidney and keep the body's processes functioning well.

Elimination of waste products from the blood and the manufacture and excretion of urine can continue unhampered.

What causes kidney stones? The formation of kidney stones can be ascribed to many causes. A diet (and water) that contains a high concentration of minerals are thought to be important factors.

Some drugs have a tendency to produce stones in the kidney and in the ureter, which is the tube that carries urine into the bladder.

Most stones have as their base the mineral calcium which can readily be seen by X-ray.

Another stone is composed of uric acid, associated with gout. It cannot be visualized by X-ray.

When a kidney stone is found by X-ray should it always be removed?

Doctors have for years been trying to find a method of dissolving stones that are formed in the urinary system. Only a small percentage of cases have been successful with this treatment.

Occasionally, stones have been dissolved when the urine has been changed from acid to alkaline, or from alkaline to acid.

This technique, however, can

The World Today

By BARRY SCHWEID
For James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's speech last week to an American Alumni Council meeting and his remarks at a news conference Wednesday indicate U.S. policy toward Communist China is undergoing serious re-examination.

While it is a little early in the game to arrive at hard conclusions, the administration evidently is moving in these directions:

1. It is making a concerted effort to woo China away from its traditional isolation policy.
2. It is affirming at the same time that the United States has greater power role to play in Asia, a role that extends beyond Viet Nam.
3. It is ready to take preliminary steps toward reconciliation with China.
4. It intends to move slowly and is not about to make an abrupt and substantial change in policy immediately.
5. It is awaiting some sign from Peking that a more moderate stance on Washington's part will lead to a response in kind.

Though these developments coincide with the bombing of oil depots in North Viet Nam, the belief here is that they suggest more than just another carrot-and-stick approach to the war.

In the past, the administration has followed tough military decisions with conciliatory gestures. For instance: Johnson's offer last April to participate in "unconditional discussions" to settle the war followed soon after of bombing of military bases in the North.

There has been no public indication from China to encourage a change in U.S. policy, nor have third-party contacts with the Chinese indicated interest in accommodation.

And yet the administration is proceeding, possibly on the theory that while it may not be able to convince current Chinese leaders of Washington's good intentions the message may seep in to younger, second-level Chinese who some day will take control.

The effort to break down China's isolation is evident in several of the President's news conference remarks.

For instance: "We should do everything we can to increase our exchanges, to understand other people better, to have our scientists and our businessmen and our authors and our newspaper people exchange visits and exchange viewpoints."

Along these lines, the State Department on July 11 broadened the categories of permissible travel to China.

The expression of a greater power role for the United States in Asia was voiced by the President in his July 12 telephoned speech to the alumni council meeting at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

The first essential for establishing a foundation for peace in Asia, he said, "is the determination of the United States to meet our obligations in Asia as a Pacific power."

Arguments that the United States has no business in Asia, he said, "have been tested and found wanting. We are bounded not by one but by two oceans — and whether by aircraft or ship, satellite or missile, the Pacific is as crossable as the Atlantic."

The willingness to take steps toward reconciliation are evident in the offer for exchange visits by scientists, businessmen, author and newspapermen.

And the decision to move slowly is evident in his news conference statement that until the Chinese are willing to abide by the principles of the UN Charter and "give up their thoughts of aggression and force" he is ruling out favoring China's admission to the United Nations or a relaxation of trade embargoes.

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson is pressing for congressional curbs on rising interest rates as they affect bank time deposits and home mortgages.

At the same time he is pointing out again the basic policy dispute between the monetary authorities — the Federal Reserve Board; and the fiscal authorities — the administration and the Congress.

And it is this difference that the public will be watching, especially this fall if money grows even tighter.

At his news conference

Wednesday, the President expressed distress "at the increased costs that are involved in the high interest rates." And he added: "We had deep concern last December when the increase was made by the Federal Reserve before the budget was submitted and without coordinating with the other fiscal agencies of the government."

Federal Reserve spokesmen, and others in the banking world, have expressed a like concern with the lack of coordination between monetary and fiscal authorities. But their position naturally is different from the President's.

Bankers say that the burden of curbing inflation and economic overheating has been left entirely to the monetary authorities through the tightening of credit and raising of interest rates, while the fiscal authorities haven't moved in the fields of cutting government spending or raising taxes.

What the President says wants Congress to do is to put a legal maximum ceiling on the interest paid on bank "deposits of $10,000 or under, or $100,000 or under."

It is the high interest paid by some banks on these smaller denomination time deposits that home builders say has drained money away from the savings and loan associations, source of much of the nation's mortgage funds.

The House Banking Committee will take up next week the Treasury Department's proposal for curbing high interest rates on smaller time deposits.

NYC Reported Planning High-Speed Shuttle Trains

Cluster Bomb Is Like 800 Grenades

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The target was the Yen Bai military complex 80 miles northwest of Hanoi.

From airbases in Thailand, U.S. jet bombers swept across North Viet Nam to the Red River Valley.

They smothered Yen Bai with thousands of lethal "bomblets". The noise was terrifying.

The Yen Bai raid was one of the most successful of the war. U.S. officers claimed it wiped out 25 anti-aircraft sites and the crews manning them. It left Yen Bai in flames.

The weapon largely responsible was the CBU or cluster bomb unit.

It is one of a large catalogue of new or improved weapons providing American and allied forces with an awesome amount of firepower.

Matching this weapons arsenal are guerrilla-fighting tactics which, like the weapons, have been devised for or adapted to the jungles and paddies of South Viet Nam. The Viet Cong soldier still retains his main counter "weapon" of elusiveness. He burrows into the ground in tunnels or holes, or "melts into the countryside" as a peasant, or fades across the borders of neighboring Cambodia and Laos.

Except for the Yen Bai raid late last spring, the cluster bomb unit has been used largely against Viet Cong guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

Primarily an antipersonnel weapon, the CBU is a canister containing some 800 bomblets with orange noses and silvery tail fins.

They are blown from the canister by compressed air, shower down to earth in bursts of light and overpowering noise.

The effect has been likened to hurling 800 extra-powerful hand grenades at the enemy.

In recent months napalm has been added to the bomblets and the pellets hit their target with both fire and steel.

Another weapon of fearsome firepower is the "Dragon Ship," sometimes called "Puff, the Magic Dragon." Twin-engine C47 planes, the old reliable of World War II, carry three guns, each with six rotating barrels. They are mounted in the plane, all on one side and protruding through windows and the door.

Fired at the same time, the machine guns can spit out 18,000 rounds per minute.

The Dragon Ships also make use of the new "star light" telescopic gunsight. This gathers and amplifies dim light in night operations. In a recent action, a star light scope caught 200 enemy troops moving along the Ho Chi Minh trail and the Dragon Ships nearly wiped them out.

Tactically, B52 bombers can unload tons of explosives on guerrilla concentrations or base camps from such high altitudes that the Viet Cong never hear or see them.

The eight-engine bombers carry 500-750 and 1,000 pound bombs. They fly in above the weather at 40,000 feet and rain explosives on a target by radar control.

Also tactically, jet fighter-bombers provide air support for ground operations that is unmatched in any previous conflict.

American pilots average 40 to 500 sorties a day; South Vietnamese pilots fly an additional 100 to 200 sorties.

"Sky spot" radar control guides fliers to their targets from the ground and enables them to bomb targets in darkness, cloudy weather or rain.

Even the infantryman is armed with greater firepower than in other wars.

His basic weapons is the M16 lightweight rifle that fires a 22-caliber, high-velocity bullet. This automatic weapon has little recoil, helping a soldier to fire with accuracy even when his fire is fully automatic. The small, light bullet enables him to carry more ammunition than he could before. For the M16, a soldier can carry 580 rounds in magazines.

'Dismissal' of OU Student Editor Disputed

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University's student newspaper and the school's administration were at odds over whether the editor of the paper left that job voluntarily Friday or was fired.

The paper said in a story that Robert Newton of Columbus, screened for the editorship while a student last spring but not attending classes during summer session, was dismissed by the administration. Dean of Students James Whalen said he "does not fire editors of newspapers" but that Newton resigned when notified he must be enrolled as a student while in the post.

NYC Reported Planning High-Speed Shuttle Trains

BRYAN, Ohio (AP)—The New York Central Railroad was reported today to be planning a weekend test of a super-speed jetpowered locomotive possibly foreshadowing high speed shuttle trains between cities.

The Wall Street Journal said in New York today the Central would seek to end its long-haul passenger trains and would ask the Interstate Commerce Commission this fall to set up a high-speed shuttle service between cities less than 200 miles apart.

Radio Station WONW at nearby Defiance reported today that first tests are planned this weekend on a special section of track between Bryan and Butler, Ind. The station quoted an unidentified track superintendent as saying three tests were planned Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

This official said the first two tests would be at lower speeds on the 30-mile track, WONW reported, and a high-speed test would be scheduled Monday after results of the first two tests were analyzed.

The New York Central has declined to comment on the reports.

The Journal said engineers would seek to run at more than 150 miles per hour. WONW reported Central officials were hoping for a top speed of 225 miles an hour.

WONW said the locomotive was built by the Budd Co., for many years a builder of street and trolley cars. The station said the new locomotive's construction was reported somewhat similar to a trolley car.

The Journal story said the test would involve a former commuter car powered by two jet engines.

The station said the jet locomotive was due to arrive today or tonight, traveling as inconspicuously as possible as part of a long train containing "business cars" or personal car with railroad officials.

The business newspaper said the shuttle service plans, if approved, would be aimed at making the Central's passenger service profitable and could lead to a major overhaul of railroad passenger service.

It said other roads might seek to follow suit and that the Pennsylvania Railroad's long-haul service also might be ended after that line merges with the Central.

The Journal said of the new service:

Fares will be low and service frequent. The Central is expected to try to show to the ICC that many cities would have more, not less, service, under the new plan.

In effect, the Central is re-emphasizing that it can't compete with the airlines on long runs, the story said, but is giving notice that it plans to become a major factor in short-haul transportation.

Some long-distance air fares already are lower than train fares and the Central is known to fear, the story said, that the gap will widen when larger jets come into operation.

Navy Plans To Explode 300 Tons of Ammo

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy next week will explode 300 tons of old ammunition nearly a mile beneath the surface of the Atlantic off the North Carolina coast.

The detonation of the deteriorated explosives is part of a research program aimed at improving methods for detecting and locating underground and underwater explosions.

The old mines, torpedo warheads and other obsolete conventional ordnance will be sunk in the full of the World War II Liberty ship Torace Grealey. The explosion will occur at a depth of 4,000 feet.

Changing Apportionment Plan To Be Difficult

By REED SMITH
AP Political Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —Senate Democratic Leader Frank W. King of Toledo still faces an uphill fight to change the GOP apportionment plan in use this year for electing state legislators in single-member districts.

A 10th District appellate court ruling that the plan was drafted illegally and cannot be used after the Nov. 8 election gave the Ohio AFL-CIO president a boost but left the odds seemingly against him.

Regardless of how the Ohio Supreme Court holds on appeal by Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, who drafted the plan for the apportionment board, heavy pressure from a Democratic-labor coalition can be expected for legislative revision.

But members elected next fall in the 99 new House Districts and 33 senatorial districts are likely to favor keeping them intact, especially if they have re-election ambitions.

King, who counts on continuing as labor's built-in senator, needs 20 favorable Senate votes and 60 in the House to place a revamped apportionment plan before voters at the polls in the form of a state constitutional amendment.

Voters rejected a proposal submitted by the legislature in the 1965 primary.

Another route could be initiative action to lace a constitutional amendment directly on the ballot by obtaining more than 300,000 valid signatures, equal to 10 per cent of the total vote for governor, a costly and tedious undertaking without assurance of approval.

King has favored "home rule" apportionment that would allow election boards in counties with multiple legislators to subdivide or continue countywide elections.

Countywide elections have enabled Cleveland Democrats to dominate legislative delegations from populous Cuyahoga County. They held all 17 House seats and six in the Senate last session.

Party leaders now face the prospect of Republican victories in suburban areas of the county under the single-member district plan. They also worry over the possible independence of some likely Negro winners.

King contended in his suit that the apportionment board is empowered to act only after each federal decennial census. Thus, he claimed, the plan drafted by the board "in secret assembly" Sept. 8 and 27, 1965, was void. The appellate court agreed.

The board is composed of Gov. James A. Rhodes, Auditor Roger Cloud and Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

Brown recalled that another board met twice in 1941 and 1942 and took apportionment action between census periods. That board was composed of Republican Gov. John W. Bricker, Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson and Secretary of State John E. Sweeney, both Democrats.

A special three-judge federal court in Cincinnati approved the new single-member district plan for use this year only and indicated it would determine later what should prevail in the 1968 and 1970 elections before the next regular apportionment.

On appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, that tribunal said the new plan did not violate the federal constitution. It was agreed that state courts should say whether the plan conformed with the Ohio Constitution.

If the Ohio Supreme Court overturns the appellate ruling, officials asserted the special federal court likely would continue the present plan. Even if the state's highest court allows the appellate decision to stand, they viewed the prospects for approval of any other plan as dim during the 1967 legislature.

bass guitar; and Danny Adkins, drums.

It was announced earlier this week that The Shandells, another local group, would be competing in this evening's finals.

Clermont Hospital Bond Issue Is Offered Again

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — Clermont County voters will have their fifth chance this November to decide whether the area needs a hospital.

The county commissioners decided Friday to put a $2.1 million bond issue and a half-mill tax levy for the 100-bed hospital on the ballot. The proposal has failed to pass four times.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Respect Makes Fine Family

DEAR ABBY: This is to tell you about a letter you never received. Some time ago I received a call from my son's third grade teacher asking me to stop in at school to discuss a letter my son had written in letter-writing class. It was addressed to YOU. It read:

"Dear Abby, My dad works all the time. He is never home. He gives me money and lots of toys, but I hardly ever see him. I love him and wish he would not work all the time so I could see him more.

(signed) "DANNY"

That was the entire letter. Abby, I grew up during the depression and wanted my children to have it better than I did, so I worked one full time job and two part time jobs, which almost doubled my income. I managed to provide my wife and two sons with many luxuries, but I realized after reading Danny's letter that I had deprived them of something more important than material things. Myself. And my time. I took stock of myself and was ashamed of what I discovered.

For instance, I had never attended a report card conference, nor visited school. Took no part in scouting, although both sons were Cub Scouts. I had never reprimanded my sons. This responsibility was entirely their mother's. Sometimes days would pass without seeing the boys awake. Because of the standards I had set for my family, I felt I couldn't lower those standards without first discussing it with them, so we held a family meeting. The result: I quit both part time jobs and we adjusted our standard of living according.

That was nearly two years ago and now I have discovered what a wonderful family I have. I have earned the respect of my sons. But more important, I have learned that the greatest gift a man can give his children is himself, his time and his love. Today I am a happy man, and I want to thank you, Abby, because if it were not for the letter my son wrote to you, I might never have known what I was missing. (sign me) DAD

DEAR ABBY: I have heard some very intelligent married people say that 99 per cent of the married couples cheat on each other. Is that true?

SHELLY

DEAR SHELLY: No. But it is a pretty safe bet that those who say that 99 per cent of the married couples cheat, do.

DEAR ABBY: How can a mother-in-law win? My daughter-in-law started acting very cool and distant to me, as though something was bothering her. I debated whether to ask her if I'd done or said something to make her mad at me. Then I decided that maybe something was troubling her that was none of my business, and if I asked her what was on her mind she might get the idea that I was prying.

So I pretended not to notice. Well my son called me from his place of work this morning and told me that his wife was very put out with me for not asking her what was wrong. In your opinion, Abby, should I have asked her.

CAN'T WIN

DEAR CAN'T: No. If something troubles one, the troubled one should come out with it. Obvious sulking, in hope of being drawn out is childish. You don't say how old your daughter-in-law is, but I hope she is very young because she has a lot of growing up to do.

3 Cincinnati Rightists Get Court Terms

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three local civil rights advocates have been placed for a year's probation for picketing at the Drake Memorial Hospital.

Ten employees of the hospital were laid off in February as the result of what the demonstrators call racial discrimination. Hospital officials say the lay-offs were caused by automation and all ten workers were later rehired.

Judge Heitzler also directed that a charge of probation violation be filed against the Rev. Robert Lee Mitchell. Mitchell was placed on probation last year after being arrested for a school site sit-in.

The case of a fifth defendant — the Rev. Otis Moss Jr., 31 — was continued until Monday and Heitzler granted a stay of execution of the sentences until Aug. 5.

Shuttlesworth and other civil rights leaders have said there will be more demonstrations at the hospital.

Third of Ohio's Poverty Funds Go to Cleveland

By STEPHEN H. MILLER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Officials say more than a third of Ohio antipoverty funds — $21 million — has gone to greater Cleveland to fight problems in such areas as housing, where violence erupted this week.

While police and National Guardsmen still patrol the riot areas, officials are working to rush into operation still another program, specifically aimed at helping racially troubled cities.

"It's been a major concern from the start," Dr. Donald Beatty, deputy director of the Ohio Office of Economic Opportunity, said of the Cleveland area. "It's been one of the most serious."

Hough has received special attention as one of the most severely troubled spots in Cleveland, he said, and officials have watched to make sure Hough got its share of funds.

Of $60.4 million allocated to Ohio under the federal "War on Poverty," more than $21 million went to greater Cleveland, which has less than a fifth of the state's population and about a fourth of Ohio's Negroes. The total includes funds allocated between February of 1965 and June 30.

Most of the money went for community action. Neighborhood Youth Corps and work experience programs designed to help the poor learn to help themselves.

The state office and Cleveland Council of Economic Opportunity are working now to speed into operation a "1060 program," designed under the federal project for the nation's 10 most troubled cities. In Cleveland, it would provide work experience for 1,060 youngsters and young adults.

Cleveland officials asked just a few days before trouble began that the program be expanded by 500 persons.

Federal concern was indicated in rapid approval. The state requested funding of the new program June 6. That normally takes 60 days. But telephone confirmation and authorization to start setting up the program was given July 1.

Gov. James A. Rhodes gave his required approval July 16, two days before the violence began.

Cleveland now has 5,524 youngsters in the Neighborhood Youth Corps, 3,041 persons in federally supported adult education programs and 3,000 adults in work experience projects.

All are aimed at helping youngsters and adults get jobs and climb out of an existence of poverty.

Ex-Mental Patient Eyed In Stranglings

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police continued today to question a 45-year-old former mental patient about Cincinnati's series of rape stranglings.

The man was arrested Friday on the complaint of a housewife who said he made an obscene proposal to her Thursday morning. Police charged him with obscene discourse.

Col. Jacob Schott, chief of detectives, said the man resembles descriptions of the rapist who has attacked four women since last October. Three of the women were killed.

Schott said the man denied knowing anything about the slayings.

The man also has the same blood type as the rapist and was near a park when Mrs. Jeanette Messer, 56, was slain there early on June 10, Schott said.

Police said the man spent eight years at the Longview State Hospital and has a record including arrests for assault, grand larceny.

Medals Given 5 Fayette County Boys

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Decoration Day" for five long haired Washington Court House youths is history, and now it's "Saudi Arabia Day" in suburban Reynoldsburg in honor of Prince Turki Faisal who pinned medals on them.

The prince, a 21-year-old student at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C., awarded the royal medals to The Cavaliers whose rock 'n' roll music he enjoyed at an embassy party recently.

The boys, age 16 - 18, were guests at a ballroom reception Friday night when they received an honor rivaling that bestowed on The Beatles by their queen.

They're Robert Thompson, Donny Miller, Robert McCoy, Michael Burnett and Bruce Dalton.

The prince figures on visiting their hometown in Fayette County before leaving Ohio.

Turki Faisal, son of King Faisal, is here as guest of the Ohio Collegiate Association on World Affairs.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Respect Makes Fine Family

DEAR ABBY: This is to tell you about a letter you never received. Some time ago I received a call from my son's third grade teacher asking me to stop in at school to discuss a letter my son had written in letter-writing class. It was addressed to YOU, it read:

"Dear Abby,

My dad works all the time. He is never home. He gives me money and lots of toys, but I hardly ever see him. I love him and wish he would not work all the time so I could see him more.

(signed)
DANNY"

That was the entire letter. Abby, I grew up during the depression and wanted my children to have it better than I did, so I worked one full time job and two part time jobs, which almost doubled my income. I managed to provide my wife and two sons with many luxuries, but I realized after reading Danny's letter that I had deprived them of something more important than material things. Myself. And my time. I took stock of myself and was ashamed of what I discovered.

For instance, I had never attended a report card conference, nor visited school. Took no part in scouting, although both sons were Cub Scouts. I had never reprimanded my sons. This responsibility was entirely their mother's. Sometimes days would pass without seeing the boys awake. Because of the standards I had set for my family, I felt I couldn't lower those standards without first discussing it with them, so we held a family meeting. The result: I quit both part time jobs and we adjusted our standard of living according.

That was nearly two years ago and now I have discovered what a wonderful family I have. I have earned the respect of my sons. But more important, I have learned that the greatest gift a man can give his children is himself, his time and his love. Today I am a happy man, and I want to thank you, Abby, because if it were not for the letter my son wrote to you, I might never have known what I was missing. (sign me) DAD

DEAR ABBY: I have heard some very intelligent married people say that 99 per cent of the married couples cheat on each other. Is that true?

SHELLY

DEAR SHELLEY: No, but it's a pretty safe bet that those who say that 99 per cent of the married couples cheat, do.

DEAR ABBY: How can a mother-in-law win? My daughter-in-law started acting very cool and distant to me, as though something was bothering her. I debated whether to ask her if I'd done or said something to make her mad at me. Then I decided that maybe something was troubling her that was none of my business, and if I asked her what was on her mind she might get the idea that I was prying.

So I pretended not to notice. Well my son called me from his place of work this morning and told me that his wife was very put out with me for not asking her what was wrong. In your opinion, Abby, should I have asked her.

CAN'T WIN

DEAR CAN'T: No, if something troubles one, the troubled one should come out with it. Obvious sulking, in hope of being drawn out is childish. You don't say how old your daughter-in-law is, but I hope she is very young because she has a lot of growing up to do.

3 Cincinnati Rightists Get Court Terms

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three local civil rights advocates have been placed for a year's probation for picketing at the Drake Memorial Hospital.

Ten employees of the hospital were laid off in February as the result of what the demonstrators call racial discrimination. Hospital officials say the lay-offs were caused by automation and all ten workers were later rehired.

Judge Heitzler also directed that a charge of probation violation be filed against the Rev. Robert Lee Mitchell. Mitchell was placed on probation last year after being arrested for a school site sit-in.

The case of a fifth defendant — the Rev. Otis Moss Jr., 31 — was continued until Monday and Heitzler granted a stay of execution of the sentences until Aug. 5.

Shuttlesworth and other civil rights leaders have said there will be more demonstrations at the hospital.

Ohio Magazine Use By Rhodes Is Rapped

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — State Sen. Frazier Reams Jr. charges that "The Wonderful World of Ohio" magazine is a campaign promotion for Gov. James A. Rhodes using taxpayers' money.

Reams, Democratic candidate for governor, said in remarks prepared for a party here Friday night that the publication operating in the red and costing more than $250,000 in its first year, uses public funds to promote the Rhodes image.

Third of Ohio's Poverty Funds Go to Cleveland

By STEPHEN H. MILLER
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Officials say more than a third of Ohio antipoverty funds — $21 million — has gone to greater Cleveland to fight problems in such areas as Hough, where violence erupted this week.

While police and National Guardsmen still patrol the riot areas, officials are working to rush into operation still another program, specifically aimed at helping racially troubled cities.

"It's been a major concern from the start," Dr. Donald Beatty, deputy director of the Ohio Office of Economic Opportunity, said of the Cleveland area. "It's been one of the most serious."

Hough has received special attention as one of the most severely troubled spots in Cleveland, he said, and officials have watched to make sure Hough got its share of funds.

Of $60.4 million allocated to Ohio under the federal "War on Poverty," more than $21 million went to greater Cleveland, which has less than a fifth of the state's population and about a fourth of Ohio's Negroes. The total includes funds allocated between February of 1965 and June 30.

Most of the money went for community action. Neighborhood Youth Corps and work experience programs designed to help the poor learn to help themselves.

The state office and Cleveland Council of Economic Opportunity are working now to speed into operation a "1060 program," designed under the federal project for the nation's 10 most troubled cities. In Cleveland, it would provide work experience for 1,000 youngsters and young adults.

Cleveland officials asked just a few days before trouble began that the program be expanded by 500 persons.

Young Fielder Leads Mets To Another Win

Swoboda's Homer Nails 3-0 Defeat Against Dodgers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The New York Mets have quit messing around with Ron Swoboda, and now he's messing around with everyone else.

Swoboda, who complained last month that the Mets were restricting his effectiveness by playing him irregularly, hit a two-run homer that sealed the Mets' latest victory.

In New York's two previous games, both with San Francisco, Swoboda hit a 10th-inning homer that gave the Mets a 3-2 victory — rapped three hits — and drove in three runs in their 14-3 triumph.

The 22-year-old slugger has been playing every day recently, which is what he felt he should have been doing the entire season.

"They've been messing around with me," Swoboda complained about six weeks ago. "They messed around with me at the end of last season, and they've been doing it again. If you have to sit around and not play for three days, you must be a fool."

"It's the young guys who are going to make this ball club. But how's a young player supposed to learn when he's in and out? I've only batted against a couple of righties. You can't learn that way. If I have to be platooned, I'll look for something else to do."

The Giants and Dodgers wouldn't mind that at all.

While the Mets remained one-half game out of eighth and moved to within one game of seventh, the Giants climbed to within two percentage points of first place in the National League by defeating Philadelphia 4-1 behind Gaylord Perry, who pitched a two-hitter and struck out 15.

Elsewhere in the NL, Houston defeated Pittsburgh 5-2, Cincinnati whipped Atlanta 8-2 and St. Louis knocked off Chicago 9-4.

In the American League, Baltimore trimmed Chicago 3-2, Detroit defeated Cleveland 10-5, California stopped New York 6-4, Boston edged Minnesota 6-5 in 11 innings and Kansas City whipped Washington 7-2.

Swoboda's homer, off Claude Osteen, came in the eighth inning. The Mets also scored in the third on Ron Hunt's single. Bob Friend blanked the Dodgers on eight hits.

Slow Pitch Event Slated At Bremen

The Bremen Pee Wee Athletic Assn. will hold its third annual Slow Pitch Softball tournament beginning Aug. 8.

A single elimination tourney, it is scheduled to run for two weeks. In addition to 15 warm-up jackets which will be awarded members of the winning team, trophies will be presented to the top four teams and leading individual performers.

The Bremen Assn. is shooting for a 32-team tournament. Entry deadline is Aug. 4.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Bill Conner, Conner's Sporting Goods, Bremen, O.

Pony League Stars Set for Twin Bill

The Circleville Pony League All-Stars will put their 4-0 record on the line 6 p. m. Sunday when they play a doubleheader.

Their opponents will be two of the better teams in Central Ohio, the Gahanna Raiders and the Columbus Tiger Comets.

Bingman, Herald Win Major Tilts

Bingman Drugs and The Herald Hawks closed in on front running Coca-Cola as they both won their respective games Friday in the Little League Majors.

The Drugmen topped American Legion, 15-4, and the Hawks nipped Purina, 9-4.

With three games left in the loop, Coke stands 9-3. Bingman and the Hawks are knotted close behind with an 8-4 slate.

Rick Blankenship started on the mound for Bingman's and pitched shutout ball until the last frame. He was relieved by Greg Hoskins. They allowed only five hits while fanning 12 and walking six.

JAMES MILLIGAN started for the Legion and was aided in the fourth by Rick Metcalf. They issued seven bases on balls, struck out nine and scattered 11 hits.

IL Relief Hurlers Get Some Rest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Relief pitchers got a free ride Friday night in many cases in the red hot International League race.

All four starters went all the way at Richmond, where the Braves divided a doubleheader with the second-place Toronto Maple Leafs. Richmond won the opener 2-0, Toronto the nightcap 3-2.

League-leading Columbus got a complete game from Wilbur Wood in a 9-0 first game victory over the Syracuse Chiefs' but starter John Gelnar was left for a pinch-hitter in the nightcap as the Jets rallied for a 3-2 triumph and a sweep that boosted their margin back to two games.

Route - going performances also were turned in by the winners in a pair of single games in which the Rochester Red Wings routed the Toledo Mud Tens 10-2 and the Buffalo Bisons trounced the Jacksonville Suns 7-0.

Columbus pounded out 15 hits in back of Wood's three - hit hurling in its opener, George Spriggs collecting four safeties.

Blanked on three hits by Ley Marentette for 7-3 in the nightcap, the Jets scored three times on two walks, Jack Damasak's double, another walk and Jim Price's single. Ed Barnowski pitched a five-hitter for Rochester.

Miss Caleb Van Is Entered in Ohio State Trot

Miss Caleb Van, owned by the Van Camp Stables of Circleville, has been entered in the $27,000 Ohio State Trot for 2-year-olds at the State Fair.

Harness races at the Ohio State Fair are scheduled Aug. 30, 31 and Sept. 1.

All harness racing at the 1966 Ohio State Fair will be free to spectators.

160 Youthful Golfers Enter Jaycee Tourney

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — A field of 160 youthful Ohio golfers tee off at Marietta Country Club Monday hoping it will prove the springboard to prominence it did for Jack Nicklaus 10 years ago.

The teen-age linksmen will be competing in the Ohio Jaycee Junior championship. Nicklaus, at 16, won the Ohio Open at the short but hilly layout.

Kochheiser Win Streak Is 9 Games

Hardware Unit Tops VFW, 7-6 in Pony League Competition

Kochheiser Hardware extended its win streak in the Pony League Friday by edging VFW, 7-6.

The Hardwaremen have nine straight wins while Third National Bank, in second, has eight wins and two defeats.

Kochheiser has three games remaining while the Bankers have two.

The winners scored their seven runs on only three hits. Dave Ogden doubled and singled and Rod Kasler singled.

Greg White tripled and doubled for the Vets. Brice Brown tripled and Richard Strawser doubled for VFW.

WERTIE TEETS went the distance for the winners, walking seven, fanning four and allowing seven hits.

Brown allowed the three Kochheiser hits as he went on to fan 13 and issue nine walks.

Boddie Seeks Third Win in Women's Test

BARRINGTON, Ill. (AP) — "Golf is a science, and I just hope I don't drop the test tube."

That is how Barbara Fay Boddie summed up her 36-hole match for the Women's Western Amateur Golf Championship today against teen-ager Peggy Conley, a University of Washington art student from Spokane.

Mrs. Boddie, 26, daughter of a Shreveport, La., golf pro and wife of his assistant, seeks to become the first Western Amateur winner in three consecutive years since Bessie Anthony did it starting with the tournament's 1901 inaugural.

She has been six under par for the entire meet over the rolling Barrington Hills Country Club course after setting a competitive record of a five-under 71 to capture medalist honors.

Mrs. Boddie defeated 17-year-old Jane Hunsberger of Camarillo, Calif., 5 and 4 in Friday's semifinals.

Peggy had to rally in eliminating Sharron Moran of Carlsbad, Calif., 2 and 1.

Colts Sparkle In Scioto Tests

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A top heavy 2-5 favorite, Judge's Choice, and a colt making his first race Best of All, won their respective divisions of the $12,000 Caceres Stakes for 2-year old pacers at Scioto Downs Friday night.

Both Judge's Choice with a 2:02 4-5 clocking for the mile, and Best of All, 2:02 3-5, approached the track record for 2-year-old pacers, 2:02 1-5.

Bruce Nickells steered Judge's Choice to victory while Jim Hackett reined Best of All.

Judge's choice, owned by J. Ray Lynch of Massillon, rallied from a 3-1-4 - length margin over King's Regent and paid $3.00, $2.20, $2.20.

Young Fielder Leads Mets To Another Win

Swoboda's Homer Nails 3-0 Defeat Against Dodgers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The New York Mets have quit messing around with Ron Swoboda, and now he's messing around with everyone else.

Swoboda, who complained last month that the Mets were restricting his effectiveness by playing him irregularly, hit a two-run homer that sealed the Mets' latest victory.

In New York's two previous games, both with San Francisco, Swoboda hit a 10th-inning homer that gave the Mets a 3-2 victory — rapped three hits — and drove in three runs in their 14-3 triumph.

The 22-year-old slugger has been playing every day recently, which is what he felt he should have been doing the entire season.

"They've been messing around with me," Swoboda complained about six weeks ago. "They messed around with me at the end of last season, and they've been doing it again. If you have to sit around and not play for three days, you might as well quit."

"It's the young guys who are going to make this ball club. But how's a young player supposed to learn when he's in and out? I've only batted against a couple of righties. You can't learn that way. If I have to be platooned, I'll look for something else to do."

The Giants and Dodgers wouldn't mind that at all.

While the Mets remained one-half game out of eighth and moved to within one game of seventh, the Giants climbed to within two percentage points of first place in the National League by defeating Philadelphia 4-1 behind Gaylord Perry, who pitched a two-hitter and struck out 15.

Elsewhere in the NL, Houston defeated Pittsburgh 5-2, Cincinnati whipped Atlanta 8-2 and St. Louis knocked off Chicago 9-4.

In the American League, Baltimore trimmed Chicago 3-2, Detroit defeated Cleveland 10-5, California stopped New York 6-4, Boston edged Minnesota 6-5 in 11 innings and Kansas City whipped Washington 7-2.

Swoboda's homer, off Claude Osteen, came in the eighth inning. The Mets also scored in the third on Ron Hunt's single. Bob Friend blanked the Dodgers on eight hits.

The Drugmen topped American Legion, 15-4, and the Hawks nipped Purina, 9-4. With three games left in the loop, Coke stands 9-3. Bingman and the Hawks are knotted close behind with an 8-4 slate.

Rick Blankenship started on the mound for Bingman's and pitched shutout ball until the last frame. He was relieved by Greg Hoskins. They allowed only five hits while fanning 12 and walking six.

JAMES MILLIGAN started for the Legion and was aided in the fourth by Rick Metcalf. They issued seven bases on balls, struck out nine and scattered 11 hits.

IL Relief Hurlers Get Some Rest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Relief pitchers got a free ride Friday night in many cases in the red hot International League race.

All four starters went all the way at Richmond, where the Braves divided a doubleheader with the second-place Toronto Maple Leafs. Richmond won the opener 2-0, Toronto the nightcap 3-2.

League-leading Columbus got a complete game from Wilbur Wood in a 9-0 first game victory over the Syracuse Chiefs, but starter John Gelnar was left for a pinch-hitter in the nightcap as the Jets rallied for a 3-2 triumph and a sweep that boosted their margin back to two games.

Route - going performances also were turned in by the winners in a pair of single games in which the Rochester Red Wings routed the Toledo Mud Tens 10-2 and the Buffalo Bisons trounced the Jacksonvilles 7-0.

Columbus pounded out 15 hits in back of Wood's three - hit hurling in its opener, George Spriggs collecting four safeties. Blanked on three hits by Ley Marentette for 7 2/3 innings in the nightcap, the Jets scored three times on two walks, Jack Damasak's double, another walk and Jim Price's single.

Ed Barnowski pitched a five-hitter for Rochester.

Hoskins and Blankenship both helped their cause as Hoskins homered and tripled and Blankenship homered and doubled. Peter McDaniel also tagged a two-bagger for the winners.

Milligan homered and tripled for the Legion.

The Herald Hawks made use of a five - run second frame to whip Purina. John Payne and Dave Truex split mound chores at three frames each for the winners.

Howard Cline went the distance for Purina allowing 12 hits.

Gary Mogan led the Hawks' charge with a pair of three sackers. Tom Shea, Jim Neal and Truex came through with doubles for the winners.

Ward's Market baseballers edged Blue Ribbon Dairy, 12-11, in the Little League Minor's Friday, boosting their record for the season to eight wins and four losses.

The Dairy team has won seven and lost five. Tim Strawser was the winning pitcher, fanning five and walking four. He gave up 13 hits.

Reggie Radcliff was the losing pitcher. He walked nine, allowed nine hits and whiffed seven.

Wade Camp's homerun was the longest hit of the game. Doug Spangler powered a triple for the winners. Both Camp and Spangler cracked doubles.

For the losing Blue Ribbon team, Scott Clifton tripled and Jim Billups and C. Cotten both hit doubles.

John Graham of Pearlsburg, Va., will captain Army's indoor and outdoor track teams in 1967. He is a consistent winner in the 35-pound weight throw indoors and in the hammer throw outdoors.

Detroit '9' Routs Tribe By 10 to 5

CLEVELAND, (AP) — The Detroit Tigers reversed things Friday night as they trounced the Cleveland Indians 10-5 with the aid of Norm Cash's grand-slam homer in the sixth inning.

Last weekend, the Indians defeated Detroit on the Tigers' home ground. Friday night's game was the start of a four-game Indians - Tigers series here.

Detroit's victory ended a six-game Tiger losing streak and dumped the tribe into fourth place. It was Cleveland's ninth loss in the last 12 games.

Just before Cash's homer, the game was 2-1 in Detroit's favor, with Cleveland's Gary Bell fanning six and walking only one through the first five innings.

In the sixth Bell walked Don Wert, Jim Northup reached first on Chico Salmon's error and Bell walked Willie Horton to load the bases. That's when Cash lashed a fast ball-Bell's first pitch-out of the park to give Detroit a 6-1 lead.

Bell was replaced by Dick Radatz, who got the Tribe out of further trouble. The Tigers gained another run in the seventh.

TV - Radio

HOLLYWOOD AP) - The
demand by actors for a greater share of the profits from their labors has now assumed global proportions.

The issue is pointed up in this month's edition of the Screen Actors Guild magazine. A Guild official, Chester L. Migden reported on the May conference in Stockholm, Sweden, of unionists representing actors in 13 countries, including those behind the Iron Curtain.

Nations participating were Austria, Canada, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Finland, France,
Italy, Netherlands, Norway,
Poland, Sweden, United Kingdom and the United States.

The principal concern of the conference was how to provide actors with more returns from the sale of movies to television.

As of now, American actors are virtually the only ones who receive royalties from telvision movies. American delegates sought means to stop being undercut by foreign actors.

The high stakes involved are demonstrated by recent sales.
Last week ABC bought 16 recent Columbia Pictures releases for a half-million apiece. CBS bought 14 Warner Bros. films at $550,000 apiece.

Migden observed that during a typical week, Los Angeles channels showed 263 old features, of which 45 were foreign-made and hence produced no
royalties for actors.

The Stockholm conference brought resolutions for cooperation to assure actors of all nations a return for their appearances on television in movies.
How that can be implemented remains to be seen. Film companies may well try to dispose of their backlogs before an international agreement can be implemented.

In any case, the time is not far off when the stocks of feature movies will be virtually depleted. What happens then is television's next big problem.

Aging, Aching Snead Still Leading in PGA

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Swinging Sammy Snead is tickling the hearts of oldtimers the world over with his youthful early footing in the PGA's Golden Anniversary Championship.

No longer The Slammer by his own admission, the 54-year old West Virginian left behind him a field packed with youngsters who weren't born when Snead won his first golf championship.

Snead shot a 36-35—71 Friday for a 139 total and was the only one under par at the halfway mark of the tournament over the 7,180-yard, par 35-35-70 Firestone Country Club course.

Al Geiberger and Don January were one shot behind at 140. Limping along with a hip injury, Snead went to the practice tee after Friday's round to work on his theory that "the time to practice is when you're playing well."

Tommy Aaron, who was born the year Snead won his first tournament — the Oakland Open in 1937 — walked past Snead, who kept threading perfect shots down the practice fairway.

"No sense practicing next to him," said Aaron. "It only makes you look bad."

"You'd look like a diamond over here son," said Snead. "See that shot, that was a seven iron. You'd only need a nine to get that far."

How much has Snead lost on his shots off the tee as the years have piled up? "Twenty five yards on all the long shots," he said. "If you need two long shots to get to a hole, you're starting off with a 5-yard disadvantage. That's a lot of yardage and you have to make up for it with accuracy and putting."

Putting, however, is not one of Snead's strengths these days.

"Age works on your nerves and putting is all nerves. I've thought about taking pills for the nerves but they take away your coordination and you can't play golf without coordination," he said.

Snead, with only the wrinkles around his piercing eyes showing any sign of his age, still has the fluid, beautiful swing which has earned him more than 100 championships.

"Yep, the swing's the same," said Snead, "but you lose the elasticity in your body as you grow older. That's the whole difference along with nerves, of course."

Snead kept banging away at the practice tee, telling onlookers exactly what he would do with each shot and then doing it. Going into those final two rounds Snead also was trailed by Julius Boros at 141. Grouped at 143 were Gary Player, Doug Sanders, Jacky Cupit, Aaron, and Billy Farrell.

Jack Nicklaus, the Masters and British Open champion, was tied with those at 146. This group also included U.S. Open champion Billy Casper. Arnold Palmer was nine shots away with 148.

Nuxhall Wins For Redlegs, May Retire

CINCINNATI (AP) — Joe Nuxhall, who made a comeback as a pitcher while in his 30s, says he may retire from baseball after this season.

"This might be my last year," the Cincinnati pitcher said Friday night after helping the Reds to an 8-2 victory over the Atlanta Braves. This raised his own record to 3-2.

"It's getting a lot tougher. I am not in shape to go nine innings and I can't do what I want to do," he added.

Nuxhall, who will be 39 next Friday, worked for 7 1-3 innings, giving up seven hits and two runs. Manager Dave Bristol lifted him after he gave up a hit and a walk in the eighth. It was Nuxhall's longest stint on the mound in 15 appearances this year.

A native of nearby Hamilton, Ohio, Nuxhall, pitched his first game for the Reds at the age of 15 and then spent years in the minor leagues before his next major league appearance. The Reds traded him in 1961, but he worked his way back up from the minors again.

"I am not running enough because of being in the bullpen now. I have reduced my running by one half and my legs are not as strong as they could be under that program," the 235-pound pitcher said, adding he thought he could get back into shape if he got back into the starting rotation.

Ohio Weekend Fishing To Be 'Good'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's lakes and streams are clear and normal throughout the state, making weekend conditions good for fishermen. The Division of Wildlife said a variety of fish are being caught, but catfish catches in streams and lakes are expected to be particularly good during the weekend.

The regional outlook: LAKE ERIE AND SANDUSKY BAY — Some good catches of perch, channel catfish, freshwater drum, and fair numbers of smallmouth bass, white bass and walleyes are being taken. The Bass Islands, Marblehead, and Catawba areas are good spots to try. Outlook for the weekend is good.

CENTRAL OHIO — Bluegills, crappies, catfish, and bass dominate the catches. Delaware Reservoir, Knox and Buckeye lakes are reported best for fishing success over the weekend. Paint Creek in Fayette County appears to be the best for stream fishing and especially for catfish. Outlook for the weekend is fair to good.

NORTHWESTERN OHIO — Lakes and streams appear equally productive for fishing success. Anglers should try the Sandusky River for bass, bluegills, catfish and perch; Resthaven Wildlife area for bass and bluegills; and the Bay Bridge fishing access area for bass, perch, and freshwater drum. Outlook for the weekend is fair to good.

NORTHEASTERN OHIO — Lake and streams fishing in this area are given a fair rating for the weekend. Some walleyes are being taken in Mosquito Reservoir. Pymatuning, Leesville, Clendening, Tappan, Mogadore, Deer Creek, and the Grand River are recommended for bass, bluegills, crappies, perch and white bass.

SOUTHEASTERN OHIO — Stream fishing is given a rating of excellent for the weekend. For the best in catfishing, anglers should try the Muskingum, Little Muskingum, and Walhonding rivers, Paint and Scioto Creeks. Lakes are rated good. Piedmont and Seneca are providing the anglers with good catches of catfish.

SOUTHWESTERN OHIO — Streams and lakes appear to be equally productive of the fisherman's desires. Catfish, bluegills, carp and bass are the main species being taken. Spring Valley, Clark, Rocky Fork and Cowan Lakes are recommended fishing areas in this section of the state. The best stream fishing will be enjoyed in the Little and Great Miami Rivers and in Caesars and Massie Creeks. Outlook for the weekend is fair to good.

Army's 1967 golf team will be captained by Andy Nusbbaum of Salina, Kan.

SOUTHEASTERN OHIO — Stream fishing is given a rating of excellent for the weekend. For the best in catfishing, anglers should try the Muskingum, Little Muskingum, and Walonding rivers, Paint and Scioto Creeks. Lakes are rated good. Piedmont and Seneca are providing the anglers with good catches of catfish.

SOUTHWESTERN OHIO — Streams and lakes appear to be equally considerate of the fisherman's desires. Catfish, bluegills, carp and bass are the main species being taken. Spring Valley, Clark, Rocky Fork and Cowan Lakes are recommended fishing areas in this section of the state. The best stream fishing will be enjoyed in the Little and Great Miami Rivers and in Caesars and Massie Creeks. Outlook for the weekend is fair to good.

Army's 1967 golf team will be captained by Andy Nusbaum of Salina, Kan.

NYC Officials Keep Mum On Jet-Propelled Train

BRYAN, Ohio (AP)—The New York Central's not-so-secret jet-propelled "black beetle" appeared to have the green light today although NYC officials were keeping mum.

The line would give out no official information about the experimental railroad car that could prestage revolutionization of its passenger service.

But the vehicle was here.

So was the NYC's president Alfred Perlman.

So were a contingent of other railroad executives, engineers and designers.

They all arrived in this North-west Ohio community Friday, furnishing substance to the rumors that tests were planned this weekend for the passenger car with twin Air Force jet engines on top and engineer's space in back.

A 30-mile stretch of track between here and Butler, Ind., had been specially prepared earlier.

Reports had it that the high-speed train was the prototype for equipment with which the NYC, which is merging with the Pennsylvania Railroad, hopes to establish rapid shuttle service between cities less than 200 miles apart.

The jet train, according to various sources, might be capable of speeds up to 225 miles an hour or even 300 m.p.h.

One of the group that arrived Friday said the railroad would have nothing to say until Tuesday, "when tests are concluded."

Red Filipino Terror Group Under Watch

MANILA (AP)—More than 500 Communist terrorists in central Luzon are getting "massive help" in arms and equipment from unknown sources, Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos said today.

Marcos told The Associated Press the weapons include American-made automatic rifles which were "stolen or purchased" illegally from U.S. bases in the Philippines.

Marcos, who earlier this week ordered 3,000 troops into the four central Luzon provinces to flush out a band of guerrillas who killed six people in the past few days, said the Communist threat was "now quite apparent within the Philippines."

Sixty-two mayors, local officials and the Philippine army refused to collaborate with the resurgent guerrilla movement have been liquidated in the past few months, he said.

Red extortion tactics in wide areas of Nueva Ecija, Pampanga, Tarlac and Bulacan provinces have affected the agricultural development of the area.

The 48-year-old president said the renewed Communist activity was a "sharp and violent reaction" by the Communists to the Philippine decision to send troops to South Viet Nam.

It was a "manifestation not only of local Communists, but of international designs," he said.

Lacerations Top Emergency List

Don Harden, 23, of 133 E. Water St., received lacerations to his arm from a piece of steel.

Ronald Eldridge, 32, of 935 S. Washington St., received lacerations to his right thumb while working.

Carlos M. Brown, 38, of 360 E. Main St., was treated after a foreign object lodged in his right eye.

Navy Pilot Escapes Red Prison After 6 Months

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Navy pilot, shot down over Communist territory more than six months ago, escaped from a prison camp and was rescued from the jungle after a "one-in-a-million" sighting by another American flier, it was learned today.

The airman was reported suffering severe malnutrition and shock after his 23-day flight across some of the most difficult terrain in Asia.

The escape was disclosed by the U.S. military command, but spokesmen would give no details — in an effort, they said, to protect other prisoners who might be involved.

The rescued pilot was not identified for security reasons, but his next of kin have been notified, the U.S. command said.

An informed source said the escapee is a Navy lieutenant who had been held by the Communists for about five months.

He was spotted by an Air Force pilot last Wednesday or Thursday in the rugged jungle near the 17th Parallel demilitarized zone, which separates North and South Viet Nam.

Judging from the area of the rescue, the pilot may have been shot down over Laos. U.S. planes make daily sorties on the Ho Chi Minh trail through Laos to cut the flow of supplies to the Communists in South Viet Nam.

All the U.S. command would say was contained in this terse announcement:

"A U.S. Navy pilot who was held prisoner of war by the Communists has escaped and returned to our control in Viet Nam. His next of kin have been notified. The identity of the pilot and all additional details must be withheld at this time for security reasons."

It was learned, however, that after the pilot was sighted, an Air Force "Jolly Green Giant" helicopter was sent from Da Nang to lift him from the jungle.

The pilot was flown to the hospital at the Da Nang air base and placed in complete isolation. He will remain under intensive care until he is strong enough to answer questions.

His condition was described as satisfactory, although he evidently is still very weak. He apparently survived in the jungle trek on a meager diet of roots and whatever edibles his survival training had taught him to look for.

Japanese Scientists Test Own Rocket OK

KAGOSHIMA, Japan (AP) — A three-stage Lambda 3H rocket, forerunner of one Japan hopes will orbit its first artificial satellite by 1968, was successfully fired today.

The Lambda 3H soared to a height of 1,100 miles over the Pacific. A spokesman for the Institute of Space and Aeronautical Science of Tokyo University reported the 60-foot, 8.4-ton rocket was launched from the institute's space observation center in southern Japan.

Cuban Exile Groups Form Military Bloc

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Four Cuban exile groups have joined forces in what they call an anti-Castro military alliance.

The groups are the veterans of the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion, the Cuban Representation of Exiles, Commandos L, and the 3th of November Movement.

Medics OK Speck for Death Trial

CHICAGO (AP)—Doctors say the man accused of slaying eight student nurses has not suffered a heart attack and will be able to go on trial.

Richard Speck, 24, has pericarditis—an inflammation of the sac surrounding the heart—and "is doing quite well," Dr. Sheldon Slodki, cardiologist at the Cermak Memorial (Bridwell) Hospital in the city jail, told a news conference Friday.

Doctors had said when Speck became ill several days ago that there was an 80 per cent chance he had suffered a heart attack.

Slodki said Speck's temperature was normal and his condition was "fine."

He said Speck would not be allowed on his feet until he has been free of fever for several days.

Speck, ex-convict and itinerant seaman born in Monmouth, Ill., and reared in Dallas, Tex., is charged with murdering Gloria Jean Davy, 22, of Dyer, Ind., one of eight South Chicago Community Hospital nurses and nursing students strangled and stabbed to death July 14 in the far South Side townhouse where they lived.

Prosecutors say he has not been officially charged with the other slayings for technical reasons.

News of World in Brief

GENEVA (AP) — The World Conference on Church and Society was asked today to adopt a report containing outspoken criticism of U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

At the same time, 72 American lay and religious leaders urged President Johnson not to take reprisals in the question of U.S. prisoners in Viet Nam.

Section three submitted to the conference for approval a report which included these general affirmations:

"The massive and growing American military presence in Viet Nam and the long continued bombing of villages in the south end of targets a few miles from cities in the North cannot be justified.

At the U.S. Navy Hospital, a 400-bed installation just across the road from the Marine heliport, three persons were wounded.

Four others were wounded at the Seabee compound just up the road from the hospital.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. has introduced a constitutional amendment designed to remove the handcuffs he said were placed on police by the Supreme Court's recent ruling on interrogation of persons suspected of committing crimes.

The North Carolina Democrat said Friday the court had "moved, through logic-shattering sentiment and stifling procedures, to favor the individual to such an extent that the administration of criminal justice is defeated."

Ervin's proposed amendment would make voluntary confessions admissible in evidence and prevent an appeals court from throwing them out if the trial court determination of voluntariness was "supported by competent proof" submitted in that court.

use of the laser, a device involving the generation of light in a very narrow beam, focused to tremendous energy intensities.

Military scientists also are working on a possible death ray type of weapon in the laser family, it was learned. This work is being carried on under super-secret conditions. Laser research also is moving toward the area of field communications, scientists said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Luci Johnson, the President's about-to-be-married daughter, has asked congressmen not to take up a collection to buy her a wedding present.

"I only want as personal a wedding as possible in circumstances in which I find myself," she said in a statement Friday after learning that House leaders had started the collection.

"This is a very meaningful time in my life and the good wishes of our friends in Congress is ample joy for us," she explained.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — President Chiang Kai-shek said today that despite the purge being carried on by Peking, the mounting struggle against Red China's Mao Tse-tung "will deal a fatal blow to the Chinese Communist regime."

In a message marking the end of Captive Nations Week, Chiang, 78, said the struggle involves "intellectuals and the masses of the people on the Chinese mainland who are taking this opportunity to get even with the Chinese Reds for their 17 years of tyrannical rule."

"We must do our utmost," he said, "to launch our offensive early date in response to the anti-Mao, anti-Communist struggle now spreading on the mainland and put an end to the misery of our compatriots there."

ROME (AP) — The directorate of Italy's Socialist party voted Friday night to merge with President Giuseppe Saragat's Democratic Socialists.

Pietro Nenni, veteran Socialist leader, was expected to head the combined party.

CAIRO (AP) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser says the Soviet Union has promised to build a subway system in traffic-clogged Cairo.

Nasser made the disclosure Friday in a policy speech marking the start of the annual celebration of the revolution that unseated King Farouk in 1952. Nasser did not disclose details of the proposed subway, but the deal apparently was made during Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's visit here in May.

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — The Soviet Union and Communist Hungary have proposed a world conference on international disarmament and an "all-European" parley to deal with international security.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — An Indonesian military tribunal has sentenced a former air force major to life imprisonment for his role in the abortive Communist-backed coup last October.

The accused, Gatot Sukrisno, was linked to the slaying of six Indonesian generals last October in an air force training camp outside Jakarta where he was accused of helping train Communist forces.

Six others convicted of having taken part in the coup have been sentenced to death. They have appealed to President Sukarno for clemency.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations, will spend 88 hours in the Soviet Union on his official visit there next week, a spokesman at U.N. headquarters said Friday.

Thant flies to Moscow Sunday. He is expected to talk with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Communist party Secretary-General Leonid I. Brezhnev, the spokesman said.

Diplomats at the U.N. believe some of the subjects to be discussed will be the war in Viet Nam, Thant's indicated indecision over whether to take a second term and the dispute over financing the U.N. peacekeeping operations.

The Wall Street Journal said the Central plans to try to drop its long-haul passenger service and set up shuttle service instead in an effort to make its passenger business profitable.

Navy Pilot Escapes Red Prison After 6 Months

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Navy pilot, shot down over Communist territory more than six months ago, escaped from a prison camp and was rescued from the jungle after a "one-in-a-million" sighting by another American flier, it was learned today.

The airman was reported suffering severe malnutrition and shock after his 23-day flight across some of the most difficult terrain in Asia.

The escape was disclosed by the U.S. military command, but spokesmen would give no details — in an effort, they said, to protect other prisoners who might be involved.

The rescued pilot was not identified for security reasons, but his next of kin have been notified, the U.S. command said.

An informed source said the escapee is a Navy lieutenant who had been held by the Communists for about five months.

He was spotted by an Air Force pilot last Wednesday or Thursday in the rugged jungle near the 17th Parallel demilitarized zone, which separates North and South Viet Nam.

Judging from the area of the rescue, the pilot may have been shot down over Laos. U.S. planes make daily sorties on the Ho Chi Minh trail through Laos to cut the flow of supplies to the Communists in South Viet Nam.

All the U.S. command would say was contained in this terse announcement:

"A U.S. Navy pilot who was held prisoner of war by the Communists has escaped and returned to our control in Viet Nam. His next of kin have been notified. The identity of the pilot and all additional details must be withheld at this time for security reasons."

It was learned, however, that after the pilot was sighted, an Air Force "Jolly Green Giant" helicopter was sent from Da Nang to lift him from the jungle. The pilot was flown to the hospital at the Da Nang air base and placed in complete isolation. He will remain under intensive care until he is strong enough to answer questions.

His condition was described as satisfactory, although he evidently is still very weak. He apparently survived in the jungle trek on a meager diet of roots and whatever edibles his survival training had taught him to look for.
